HANDICAPS

How does my handicap change from week to week?

Frank Bester Example:

The week of January 3rd (Handicap Week) Frank shoots 40 on the front 9 at Westmount Golf & Country Club. Based on a Par of 35, Frank has now established his starting league handicap for Week 1 as 5. Week 2 Frank shoots 38 on the Front 9 playing Cobble Beach Golf Links and the Par 36. Adding the two weeks together (Handicap Week & Week 1) Frank has a total over Par of 7. We would then take Frank's total over par and divided by the two weeks posted to establish his Week 2 handicap of 3.5 which would round up to 4. Week 2 Frank shoots 36 Playing Abu Dhabi Golf Club. Frank's total over Par for 3 weeks is 7, which now gets divided by 3 weeks giving Frank a Handicap for Week 3 of 2.3 which would get rounded down to 2.

Handicap Rounding

Anything below .4 will be rounded down, anything above .5 will get rounded up.

Mulligans will only be permitted for mis-read shots during Men's League Rounds.

Please be conscious of who's turn it is, where you tee up the ball on the mat and how waggles may affect how the Hawk is reading your ball. Gimmies will be set at 6ft, other course conditions will vary each week. If you are caught taking mulligans your 9-hole score will not count.

EVERYONE WILL PLAY FROM THE SAME TEES
